

Zümürü Abdullayeva

About Me

I am a motivated English teacher with a strong background in language instruction and a deep passion for language learning. In addition to my teaching experience, I am eager to expand my skills and explore new opportunities as a translator and in other English language-related fields. My goal is to apply my language expertise in diverse professional settings, contributing to effective communication and cultural exchange. I am confident that my linguistic proficiency, attention to detail, and adaptability will allow me to succeed in various roles that require strong English language skills.
